A Learner Centre

Fostering independence and curiosity at #TSGE! Our learning center is a haven where children have the freedom to choose their activities, promoting selfdirected learning. Empowering young minds to explore, discover, and thrive on their educational journey.

Skill - Communication Topic - Making Peace

Nurturing empathy and conflict resolution at TSGE! During a Global Perspective class discussion, our grade IV learners explored the art of maintaining friendship and avoiding conflicts. They delved into international conflict research, imbibing skills to amicably resolve differences. Capturing their insights in a thoughtful activity, they even shared personal examples on enhancing their relationships. Building a community of understanding and harmony

Global Brands

Empowering creativity in Grade VII learners at TSGE as they reimagine global brands through their unique handcrafted logos, forging a path of innovation and originality.

Tens and ones activity of Prep II

Dive into the world of numbers with a simple and fun Tens and Ones activity! Prep II learners explore and practice hands-on math manipulatives in our Math Lab, turning abstract concepts into tangible learning experiences. Making math an adventure for young minds!

SPECIAL ASSEMBLY - SAVE BIRDS

Our school hosted a 'Save Birds' event in the atrium, emphasizing bird conservation during the Makar Sankranti (kite-flying) festival. The impactful session included a video presentation, providing insights on ensuring the safety of birds during this tradition. The event's goal was to enhance awareness and encourage responsible kite-flying practices.

Makar Sankranti

At TSGE, the festive spirit soared high as we joyously celebrated Makar Sankranti, our younger students immersed themselves in dance, kite-flying, and kite-making activities. Beyond the joyous celebrations, this occasion became a meaningful exploration of cultural heritage and traditions. Engaging in these activities not only brought students together in unity but also deepened their understanding of the cultural significance of Makar Sankranti. It was a delightful blend of fun, learning, and cultural appreciation that resonated throughout the TSGE community.

The Staff of Thakur School Of Global Education had the privilege of receiving POCSO training on-site, skillfully facilitated by Ms. Kavita Rathod. The training was designed to create awareness about the POCSO law among the staff and educate them about their duties and responsibilities to ensure a safe learning environment and give them clarity on what constitutes child sexual abuse.

Granth Book Store

TSGE little wonders went to the Granth book store for an adventurous visit. The store has an entire floor dedicated for the children's section. Learners were gleefully focused on the book cover images rather than the titles. They were interactive with the staff and asked their choice of character books. They bought various books of their choice and had a read aloud with the teachers at the end of the day.-

GP Activity

The Grade VI learners of TSGE joined forces to create a vibrant poster/flyer for a sports event, showcasing their collaborative skills under the umbrella of a global perspective. Their collective enthusiasm in strategizing and bringing this promotional material to life was evident and contagious, aiming to ignite widespread participation and excitement for the upcoming sports event

Poster on Giving guidance -Reflection skill

Unlocking the power of reflection, our learners engaged in a class activity to create a thoughtful poster. The focus was on imparting guidance, and each drawing serves as a unique expression of their understanding. Through this artistic endeavor, they not only showcase creativity but also demonstrate the ability to reflect on ways to welcome and guide new classmates into the class community. A beautiful blend of art and reflection in action at TSGE!
